The Ice Men.

The wholesale dealers in ice are again vorried, as they have been off and on for the past ten years. Their experience of two years ago has taught them that if ice does not make in the Hudson by the 1st of January it is not likely to make at all during the season. The agents of these companies are scouring the entire country to the far north of New York and New England and have centracted for ice privileges on Saratoga, Lake Champlain and Lake George, and have been compelled to pay pretty Any Part of the City. stiff prices therefor.

Meanwhile the making of artificial ice flourishes, and at the great hotels and office of the railroad companies, which are beginning to use it, it is giving greater satisfaction than natural ice, partly because there is less wastage. partly because is comes in blocks of asertained weight and partly because it made of distilled water. Some of the natural ice dealers are of the opinion that it will ultimately supplant natural ice harvesting, and it is sure to do so if the climatic change toward mildness of season is to be regarded as permanent. -New York Cor. Philadelphia Press.

Methods of London Thieves. At the next assizes in London the trial of a new kind of thieves promises to be interesting. Their method was to visit unoccupied houses in the outskirts of the city in the daytime. They drove up a an elegant carriage, and when they ound nobody at home the house was marked. In the night they came in a wagon, broke into the house and carted off their booty. When it turned out that they were mistaken and that parties were in the house they simply offered to sell photographs and albums. One of the members rode a bicycle and took his otes of the houses that were good for obbing. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke were the leaders of the gang. They lived in one of the suburbs, were highly respected by all their neighbors and were extenively invited to tea parties, dinners, etc. London Letter.

An Aristocratic Grain. Could plants by claim to aristocratic sition, as representing an old family, ice might safely claim to be of the most incient pedigree. It is the earliest cereal known. Originally a native of India, it as crossed the ocean and make a home or itself where heat and moist soil could be found. It grows in all warm portions of the globe, and furnishes the principal food or nearly one-third of the mman race, -Good Housekeeping.

A Steam Sleigh. A Truckee (Cal.) man has in the course construction a steam sleigh which will, he claims, when perfected, traverse snow covered fields and mountains with a speed scarcely less than that of a railroad train. It is his intention to utilize the contrivance for the hauling of all classes of freight, sawlogs and anything elso that requires cheap transportation. - Exchange.

While a workman was repairing an utbuilding in Winchester, Ind., a few lays ago, he found under one of the sills in old tin can containing about $1,600 gold coin, mostly in $2.50 and five ollar pieces. No one knows to whom he treasure belonged.
